

QPR project gets off to a great start

20 local young people joined us for the initial briefing for our new project, 'Story of QPR', with QPR in the Community Trust on Thursday 5 September. The day included an overview of the project, a tour of Loftus Road stadium and an interactive film-making workshop. Alex, 14 said 'I'm so excited to take part and really looking forward to making the film!'

Subsequent workshops with our young people have also been well attended and the next stage of the project will be for our young volunteers to begin researching the scope of the film, which will include meeting local heroes and characters who will shape the story and share their own memories and mementoes of the football club and local area.
